

6516207107.txt

I use XM traffic channels to pre-plan my route around NYC from further away than local channels would be able to inform me. Also local stations blow through the traffic quickly and then it's 10 minutes before the next one. If a local station wished to they could compete with XM by only doing traffic and weather but they choose not to. I like all the services I subscribe for.